

CHANGE
FOR CHANGE
Small change, BIG DIFFERENCE

Be part of something BIG! Be the change that pancreatic cancer needs!

We need volunteers to help distribute our Change for Change collection tins in their local community. By joining our team of volunteers who have taken up the Change for Change initiative, you will be instrumental in raising much needed funds and awareness for pancreatic cancer.

The average collection tin raises about £30 every 6-8 weeks, which over time can really add up and there are lots of places that the tins can be placed for example the local pub, shop, school, post office or community group!

What will I be doing?

- Distributing the Change for Change tins within your local area
- Contacting local business over the phone or face to face
- Keep records of where your tins are placed using our info sheet
- The tins will need checking and emptying 3 or 4 times a year
- Counting and banking the donations collected from the tin

This can all be done at a time that suits you. Simple!

About us

Currently there are almost 10,000 people newly diagnosed a year with pancreatic cancer. We're on a mission to stamp out late detection which is the reason that the survival rate has remained at between 2% – 5% for nearly 50 years.

Pancreatic Cancer Action's focus is on improving early diagnosis of pancreatic cancer and improving the quality of life for those affected by pancreatic cancer.

What support will I receive?

- When you register, you will receive a comprehensive pack which includes;
- Collection tin(s)
- Change for Change Guide
- Donations form
- Volunteering lanyard
- Charity Authorisation letter
- Dedicated member of the PCA fundraising to support you

What skills do I need?

- Good communication skills
- A personal and friendly manner
- Numeracy, record-keeping skills and the ability to handle cash efficiently and accurately
- An ability to use your own initiative

What will I gain from volunteering?

- The role is flexible, working around you to suit your lifestyle
- An opportunity to develop your fundraising skills and boost your CV
- Gain new experiences and using your existing skills
- Make additional community links and meet new people in your local area
- Knowing you will be making a difference to future generations, ensuring more people survive pancreatic cancer

Where will I be based?

In and around your local area

Change for Change in Action

Bad Boys Biltong have a stand that tours up and down the country at food festivals and events to share their love of the South African speciality. Now, they also want to help spread awareness and raise funds of pancreatic cancer along the way!

Murray, co owner of the business, says, "It was certainly a talking point as the white and purple tin stood out against our black and red stand! Other stalls noted how having the charity tin benefits a charity and the stall holder. The tin looks good next to us and we look good next to the tin!"
