

Pancreatic Cancer Awareness Song

Pancreatic cancer is a tricky one to spot but you can beat it early if you look at what you've got Cos symptoms such as these if they're new and persistent alert you to the problem so you can make it non-existent

Have you noticed a yellowy colour on your skin or in the whites of your eyes or a darker shade of urine?
Getting it checked would be wise

Pancreatic cancer
may appear a source of strife but if you catch it early you could save your life

And have you noticed in addition that you lost a lot of weight?
With no other obvious reason that's another thing to contemplate

And don't be squeamish, but in the toilet is there a really nasty smell?
Are they oily? Are they pale?
It's a warning sign as well

And is there pain in your upper tummy?
Does it hurt persistently?
A sensation that is new and unusual to you tell it to your GP

Pancreatic cancer
may appear a source of strife
but if you catch it early
you could save your life

It's also good to notice if your appetite has gone if there's problems with digestion or you think you want to vom

Pancreatic cancer
may appear a source of strife
but if you catch it early then you could save your life

Saving lives through early diagnosis
