

Different types of will gift

A monetary gift

Also known as a pecuniary gift, this is a gift of a specific amount of money. If you decided to leave this type of gift it is worth reviewing it from time to time as inflation can reduce its value.

A residuary gift

A residuary gift is a set portion of all your remaining estate. It is a popular choice of gift to leave, as the amount you gift is adjusted after all your expenses are paid for, helping to make sure your loved ones are taken care of first.

A specific gift

A specific gift is a named item in your will. For example, you could gift a property, a car, a piece of jewellery or a painting.

In need of a will writing service?

We have partnered with Make A Will Online to offer a free will writing service to all our supporters. The service is extremely user friendly and the process can all be completed online at a time that is most convenient for you. All wills are checked by a qualified solicitor and are sent to you for final approval. For more information please visit panact.org/legacy

We would love to hear from you!

What we do and how your gift will help us

As the UK's fifth biggest cause of cancer death, we know that pancreatic cancer desperately needs more funding and more awareness. Our vision is a day where more people survive pancreatic cancer but we can't do this alone. We need your help.

Although it might seem a little daunting at first, your will is the only way to ensure your money, assets and belongings are distributed according to your wishes.

We understand that family and friends come first, so once you have taken care of your loved ones, please consider leaving a gift that will make a real and lasting difference to pancreatic cancer.

Here's how your gift to us, will make a difference:

Thank you for all your support.

What your legacy will fund:

£20

Helps us fund a medical researcher for 1 hour

£50

Allows us to reach six thousand people on social media

£100

Could help us dispatch awareness materials to 30 different businesses across the UK

£500

Could help us provide awareness information to 300 people who attend our Occupational Health talks

£1,000

Could fund research into new ways of diagnosing pancreatic cancer in the early stages

£5,000

Could help us develop new e-learning modules for medical professionals

£10,000

Could help fund a large healthcare professional study day across the country

£40,000

Could help fund a national public awareness campaign

Your questions answered

What is a legacy?

A legacy is a gift of money, property or a valued possession that you leave to family, friends and the causes you hold dear.

When should I update my will?

You can change your will whenever you like, but might find that you want to do it after major changes in your life, such as: marriage, bereavement, divorce or the birth of children or grandchildren.

How can I update my will?

If you wish to make major revisions to your will, you may have to ask your solicitor to do this. If the changes are relatively simple, such as the addition of a charitable bequest, you need only add a codicil (a legally binding document that details amendments to your will).

Find out more about codicils on our website: www.panact.org/codicil.

How can I leave a gift to Pancreatic Cancer Action?

If you are writing a new will, you need only give your solicitor our charity details including our exact name, address and registered charity number (which can be found on the back of this leaflet). If you want to add a charitable gift to an existing will, simply complete a codicil (visit: www.panact.org/codicil) and present it to your solicitor.

Can I leave a gift to fund a specific project?

We are more than happy for you to leave a legacy to fund an area of our work. You could leave a lasting legacy to; research, public awareness, medical education and patient information. Please contact legacy@panact.org to discuss any requirement you might have.

Do I need to think about inheritance tax?

There is no tax payable on a gift left to charity in your will. It could also reduce the total amount of your estate that may be liable for inheritance tax.
